PACKEY ON BOXING. No Place for Shifts and Fantastic

Mayos.

"Shifts and fantastic moves have no ace in boxing," says Packey McFarplace in localing, size raisely afterar-land, the Chicago lightweight. "As a matter of fact, there are only four punches in pugiffsm that are effective. These are the straight jab, the left hook, the right cross and the right upperput. You can count on your fin-gers the fighters of today who know how to use them properly, Jack Johnson Gres, and so does Sam Langford. They are essentially of the old school, and, after all, I think it is the best.

"There is nothing like the good old left jab. It I were instructing a young false. It I were instructing a young fellow that had the making of a ising fighter I would have him perfect himself in the use of the straight left times you can discourage struct any opponent, and that's the main thing in the fighting game."

Someone asked Packey about the effectiveness of blocking after commenting on his wonderfol ability in stopping well meast blows. Packey admitted that it was largely a matter of quick eyes, and his sparting brown orbs indicated that he wasn't lacking in that particular.

orbs indicated that he wasn't macking at 8 p. m.

If just learned that naturally," he answered. "Someone was good enough to endow me with that ability, I guess, fect in attendance but just plain blocking isn't of much the year of 1911.

If was remarked by Pauleey at this point that the general impression was the ware $46,412.43, as compared with $45,414.45 as compared with $45,414.45 as that he couldn't punch, and wasn't a $66 for 1919. This is an increase of knocker-out. Packey smiled at this . "Cyclone Johnny Thompsen, who claimed the middleweight championship a short time ago, told me I hit him harder than anybody," he answered "but when you think if ever, what would I set by knocking everybody out? No more meney, and hardly-any more reputation. It makes little difference to me if in after years they say: Well, McFarland was a great boxer, but he couldn't punch.' Luckly, I have saved what I've earned, and I'll have mine then. On second thought," continued Packey, "M I were to knock 'em all cold, who'd fight me?"

There are few enough now willing to take a chance. But I can punch and to take a chance. But I can punch and punch hard if the eccasion demands it To punch hard all the time I would have to sacrifice speed. Notedy can punch hard when he is moving fast and almost anybody with two fists can when he isn't or is to deliver a blow."

The question of taking punishment was then put up to Packey.

"Can you take a walloping in the atomach?" asked a bystander. "Way not?" asked Packey. "I've alwhy not maken rackey. Two always taken good care of my stomach i never drank or amaked and I never pad anything in my stomach that thought would disagree with it. RICHESON CASE GOES OVER UNTIL TODAY

Lawyer Morse of Defendant's Counsel Unable to Appear. William A. Morse, one of the atter-

Morse, who has been under a severe nervous strain for some time past owing to his activity in the Richeson case, and has lost much sleep, found the events connected with the announcement of Rioneson's confession on Saturday too much for his strength and since Saturday too much for his strength and since Saturday inght he has been jil. The attorney's condition was greatly improved tought and it was stated that he would be able to attend the Richeson. The Richeson, Jr. Frederick R. Huntington and James P. Droullard of New York. Allowing the Minington and James P. Bro

It has been arranged that the clergyman should be brought before Judge Sanderson of the auperior court at 4 p. m. to make a formal retraction of his former plea of not guilty and hew plea of guilty. When District Attorney Pelletier learned of Mn. Morse's filness he consented to a pestponement until the close of tomorrow furencen's session of court. Between and 1 p. m. tomerrow, decording present plans, Richeson will make formal acknowledgment in court of its responsibility for the death of his former sweetheart. Murder in the first degree is the crime charged, and death in the electric chair is the legal penalty for that crime in Massachu-Petition for Commutation. It is generally expected that after Richeson has been sentenced to death as "the association of coaster bakes an application will be made to Govern- licenses." or Pess and the executive council fo commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment. Only the governor and council have the power to grant such commutation. Governor Poss intimat-ed today that should a pedition for such action be presented to him he would examine it thoroughly and submit it to the council for a hearing.

Two Arguments for Clemency. It is not known upon precisely what grounds the atterneys plan to base their appeal for executive elemency. out two arguments have been prom ently discussed. One is that the pris oner by his confession has saved the state the expense of a long trial and has spared the public and the family of the murdered girl the publication of distasteful details which inevitably would have accompanied such trial he other possible argument is the aim, already advanced by some of Richeson's former friends, that the
